Lib Dems win fight for £1bn
to tackle youth unemployment

The Times, Nov 2011

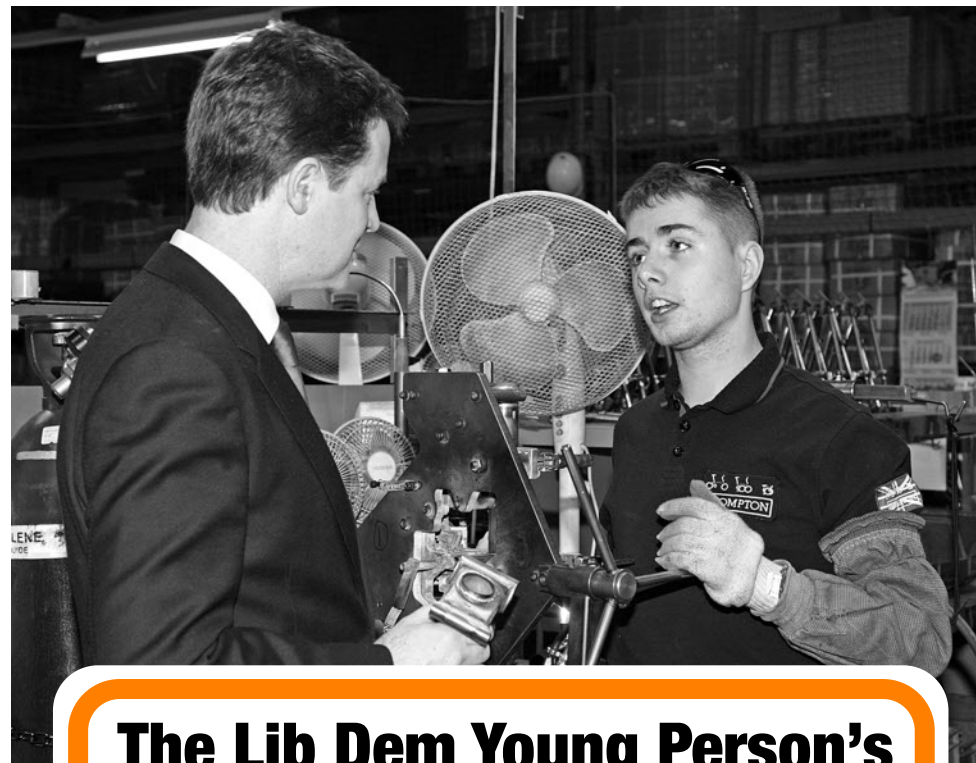

“ If people are out of work when they're young they bear the scars for decades.

This £1bn investment will make sure our young people are earning and learning again, before long-term damage is done. ”

The Lib Dem Young Person's GUARANTEE

A job, a training place or a work placement for every young person who wants it

The Lib Dems in government are taking real action to tackle youth unemployment - an issue that has been ignored for too long.

The Youth Contract will create over 400,000 new jobs and 250,000 new work experience placements to help young people across Britain to get into work. Every young person who wants it will be guaranteed a job, training place or work placement to make sure they have a fair chance.

The new £1 billion Youth Contract investment includes:

-  Over 400,000 new jobs across the UK over the next 3 years
-  250,000 new work experience placements across Britain
-  20,000 more incentive payments to encourage employers in England to take on young apprentices
-  Extra careers support for unemployed young people
-  We know businesses are struggling to take young people on, so we'll pay half their basic wage for 6 months
